Dear colleague,

we are working to prepare the 34th edition of the Congress on Digestive System Surgery scheduled on November 23rd and 24th 2023, which will take place finally back in attendance in Rome at the "Auditorium del Massimo".

We continue with the commitment and passion of all time, year after year, to offer you a unique scientific event, enriched both by the high level of the Italian teaching staff, and by the participation of internationally renowned foreign surgeons who have contributed to acquiring considerable importance to the event both nationally and internationally.

Also in the next 2023 edition we will present all the news in world premiere on digestive surgery both with open technique and with laparoscopic approach, together with both scientific and practical updates and new themes, providing in the 2 days of congress over 150 live surgery interventions compared from the 5 continents: scientific contents of the highest level will be presented thanks to the use of cutting-edge technologies and comparing the opinions and research of the most successful surgeons, both Italian and foreign.

In parallel, will take place the annual session of the Course dedicated to Operating Room Nurses, and this year reaches its 20th Edition! As always, in addition to Live Surgery, there are also the usual refresher courses and other dedicated activities.

We are very proud to share with all of you the success achieved during the past 2022 edition: over 90,000 users connected in the two days from all over the world! And the web pages visited on the new site in the two days of the congress were over 543,000.

The organization of the Congress was more challenging and complex than expected and a great work marathon for the whole Laparoscopic Team from the secretariat to the technical department.

For the next 2023 edition we will give our maximum effort to do better and make it, if possible, a truly memorable event!

Your participation in the event is essential for the success of the Congress, we look forward to seeing you!
